

Pine-Oak Rust
Eastern Pine Gall Rust

Cronartium quercuum [or near]
(Berkeley) Miyae ex Shirai

OVERALL: Bollman Place, 4/25/2020, S. Muller.
OVERALL: Bollman Place, 5/31/2020, S. Muller.

Pine-Oak Rust
Eastern Pine Gall Rust

Cronartium quercuum
Cronrtiaceae

J	F	M	A	M	J	J	A	S	O	N	D
-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-
	+		+	+

ID: Body gall-like on conifers, breaking into orange/yellow ridges.

Habitat: Parasitic on branches/trunks of conifers starting in spring and throughout year; gall visible for years.

Fruiting Body: 2 – 10” or more in diameter [5 – 25.5 cm]
Reddish-brown gall which breaks into orange then yellow spore mass ridges.

Spores: Yellow. Ellipsoid, strongly ornamented w/ yellow incusions.

Frequency: Uncommon.

Locations: BOLPL.

Synonym: Teleomorph of Peridermium cerebrum, which see.

Notes: Mycobank 173674. According to E&S, there are other members of the genus although this one is the most likely.

References: E&S 329.